SLAVIC MINOR REQUIREMENTS 2018-2019

The Slavic Minor has three subplan options.

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE SUBPLAN

6 courses of 3 units or more, 24 units minimum

The Russian Language subplan requires completing second-year Russian, or the equivalent, as determined by the Language Center placement exam.

1. Russian Language Courses (12 units minimum)
   SLAVLANG 111–113: Third-Year Russian Language
   SLAVLANG 177–179: Fourth-Year Russian Language
   SLAVLANG 181–183: Fifth-Year Russian Language

2. Russian Literature Courses (12 units minimum)
   SLAVIC 145: Survey of Russian Literature (Autumn)
   SLAVIC 146: The Great Russian Novel (Winter)
   SLAVIC 187: Russian Poetry of the 18th and 19th Centuries (Winter)
   SLAVIC 147: Modern Russian Literature and Culture (Spring)

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE, LITERATURE, AND CULTURE SUBPLAN

6 courses of 3 units or more, 28 units minimum

The Russian Language, Literature, and Culture subplan requires completing first-year Russian, or the equivalent, as determined by the Language Center placement exam.

Option 1

Take two courses from the following:
   SLAVIC 145: Survey of Russian Literature: The Age of Experiment (Autumn)
   SLAVIC 146: The Great Russian Novel: Tolstoy and Dostoevsky (Winter)
   SLAVIC 147: Modern Russian Literature and Culture (Spring)

Option 2

Take one course from the following:
   SLAVIC 145: Survey of Russian Literature: The Age of Experiment (Autumn)
   SLAVIC 146: The Great Russian Novel: Tolstoy and Dostoevsky (Winter)
   SLAVIC 147: Modern Russian Literature and Culture (Spring)

And either SLAVIC 187 or 188:
   SLAVIC 187: Russian Poetry of the 18th and 19th Centuries (Winter)

Electives (complete remaining units to reach 28 unit minimum)

Courses either in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures or, with the approval of the Slavic Department’s Chair of Undergraduate Studies, in other relevant programs dealing with Russian culture, politics, society, and history. 5 units from a Thinking Matters course taught by a Slavic faculty member may count towards electives.